

Japanese Bomb B-29 Base

Lose at Least
13 of Their Planes;
No Announcement
Of U. S. Damage

By Vern Haugland

SAIPAN, MARIANAS ISLANDS, Nov. 27—(Delayed)—(P)—In an obvious attempt to retaliate for the first B-29 raid upon Tokyo, Japanese fighter planes twice bombed and strafed the Saipan Superfortress base today at a cost of at least 13 Nipponese aircraft.

There was no announcement of American damage.

Brig. Gen. Haywood Hansell, Jr., commander of the 21st bomber command, said he had no comment because the defense of the island was not his responsibility, but at a press conference before the first Tokyo raid he warned that the Japanese would react instantly and strongly to an attack on their mainland, inevitably inflicting some damage on this base, but at a high cost.

The first attack was by two or three low-flying airplanes which bombed and strafed Saipan shortly after midnight today. The raid lasted only a couple of minutes.

At noon more than a dozen fighters boldly struck, dropping a few bombs and strafing from as low as 300 feet. Anti-aircraft gunners brought down at least seven P38s and P47s tackled the Japanese planes as soon as they left the anti-aircraft range and brought down six more in running battles extending over several hundred miles to the north, almost to Iwo Island in the Volcano group.

Ran to Shelters
The early morning attack sent everyone running to rarely used shelters. Half a dozen men neglected to put on their shoes and had to be treated later for coral bruises. No one was killed.

The noon raid, with Japanese planes darting about close overhead, was much more exciting. One Japanese plane broke into flames about 100 feet above the ground and skidded the beach so low that its heat painfully burned some men in foxholes. The plane crashed into the ocean.

Just before another plane struck an unoccupied open area, its pilot bailed out. He drew a gun as soon as he landed and started shooting. A Negro Marine killed him with a carbine.

Plane Spins, Pilot Bailed Out
Another enemy pilot bailed out over Tinian as his riddled plane went into a spin. One Japanese plane thundered to earth within a mile of this camp. The pilot's body was intact in the plane, except for the right arm which lay 200 feet away. All of his clothes were burned off and the pilot slowly roasted in the fiercely burning plane in full view of scores of Americans.

"It is amazing the way these planes blow to bits when they crash, leaving almost no wreckage," commented Navy Lieutenant Gardner, Balboa Island, Calif. To the north, almost to Iwo, First Lt. William A. Loflin, Little Rock, Ark., shot down one Japanese plane.

Cigarette Shortage Will be Worse During Next 2 Months

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28—(P)—Without learning the reason for the current cigarette shortage, congressional investigators heard testimony today that an 18-month supply of cured tobacco is backed up by a record 1944 crop.

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28—(P)—Little smoke but a lot of fire was fanned up on Capitol Hill today in the search for the missing cigarettes.

Senate investigators of the cigarette shortage pursued what Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) called the same rumors "as those heard by every cigarette smoker."

And Chairman Flannagan (D-Va.) called his house agriculture committee together (9 a. m. CWT) to explode "untrue propaganda" that the shortage stems back to a shortage in leaf tobacco.

While the senate was investigating committee probably will discuss an undercover inquiry by its agents at a session today, Ferguson said he did not look for a public hearing "until additional progress has been made."

No cigarette smoker himself, Ferguson said his interest is "to see if the shortage has been caused by black market, excessive storage or for other reasons."

Investigate Black Market

"People have been led to believe that they can't buy cigarettes because a large percentage of manufacture is going to troops overseas," Ferguson continued. "Then they learn that at many points the soldiers can't get cigarettes or have to pay black market prices."

"There probably are a number of explanations for the shortage, including increased consumption here and abroad."

"But, until we find out what the causes are, it will be difficult to find a remedy."

Let's hope they find it in a hurry. President Eric Calamia of the National Retail Tobacco Merchants Association said at Kansas City yesterday that the shortage will be even worse in the next three months than it has been in the last two.

L. W. Baldwin on Inspection Tour, Talks to Employees

L. W. Baldwin of St. Louis, president of the Missouri Pacific lines, was a visitor in Sedalia today accompanied by the heads of the various departments of the road, making an inspection tour. He visited the new shops and went through each department, meeting old friends and visiting with new employees.

Immediately following the noon hour, Mr. Baldwin spoke to the nearly 1,200 employees who were gathered in the large machine shop, giving an informal talk, his first to the Sedalia employees in nearly five years.

"I was in Chicago recently," Mr. Baldwin said, "and met with Monroe Johnson, head of the ODT. He told of the fine work the railroads are doing toward the war effort."

"The ODT is not trying to run the railroad and does not intend to try to run the railroads, but they are being very helpful to us," Mr. Baldwin said. "Through their operation they have made it possible for the railroads to operate to a better advantage in the war effort."

All Are Helping
Continuing he said, "Our biggest load is yet to come and will be as long as the war lasts. There cannot be a minute's let up on our part. You no doubt have read and heard General Eisenhower's appeal to the American people for more war materials. The railroads play a great part in seeing that he gets these materials and I know of not a single person connected with the Missouri Pacific lines, who will slacken in his or her effort to seeing General Eisenhower's request is met."

"All of us connected with the industry should willingly and must make any sacrifice that is necessary. The only reason you and I are working here now is because of our age. We were born too soon to be in the active war age. There are a few here because you are essential to the work you are

Married Soldiers Must Take Chances With the Bachelors

LONDON, Nov. 28—(P)—"Unmarried people have feelings as well as married people" and married soldiers will have to take their chances with the bachelors for home leave, Prime Minister Churchill said today in Commons.

The prime minister had been asked why married men in the British forces in the Mediterranean and Pacific areas could not have preference in leave regulations.

Sgt. Jester's Body Found in Car on Road

Death Caused by Gunshot Wounds; Had Been Overseas

S/Sgt. Raymond C. Jester, 25 years old, who recently returned to the United States from New Guinea, where he spent almost three years, was found dead in his car from gun shot wounds near the junction of Highways 5 and 52, north of Versailles, Saturday night. He was carrying approximately $200 in cash and was wearing an expensive wrist watch. No valuables were missing.

Sgt. Jester, who had been spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Jester of Stover, and with relatives in Versailles, was on his way to Versailles from Henley where he had spent a few days with a sister, Mrs. W. B. Revis. He had been hunting and was carrying a 12-gauge hammerless shotgun and a single shot 22 pistol. The latter was the one used to inflict the wound.

Sheriff Finds Body
Sheriff K. A. Goodman of Versailles discovered the body at about 9:45 Saturday night after he had twice passed the '39 Ford coach parked with the lights on. Investigation led to discovery of the body slumped in the seat with the left hand through the steering wheel, the right hand beneath the wheel and the gun in the seat near the door of the car. The gun contained the empty cartridge and the bullet had entered the body near the heart.

Jewell Stevenson of Stover, Morgan county coroner, called to the scene, conducted an inquest, and army officials from Fort Leonard Wood came and took the body to camp for further investigation of the case.

Survivors, other than his parents, are three brothers, Roy Jester of Versailles, Earl E. Jester of Greenwood, and Willard Jester of Stover; and four sisters, Mrs. W. B. Revis of Henley, Mrs. Paul Bell of Kansas City, Mrs. Claud Gilpen of Brazito and Mrs. Ruth Davis of Stover.

The body was returned to Versailles Monday.

Futile Search for Former Convict
JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 28—(P)—Warden Paul E. Kaiser, back in his office at the state penitentiary today after a futile search for a former convict who charged that dope traffic was wide-spread in the prison, said he firmly believed the use of drugs there was being held to a minimum.

The warden said that when his deputies obtain evidence that a guard is furnishing or selling drugs to convicts, the guard is fired.

"But we can't 'frisk' every guard—we can do better by waiting for them to convict themselves."

Top prices for haircuts is 25 cents; shave, 15 cents; shampoo, 35 cents.

Samples of food ceiling prices: hamburger, 18 cents; T-bone steak, 25 cents; pork chops, 20 cents per pound; fresh bacon, 15 cents; lobsters, 15 cents per pound; eggs 40 to 60 cents a dozen; broiler chickens, 30 cents per pound; fryers, 25 cents.

Heads State B'Nai Brith

Abe Rosenthal, 1003 West Seventh street, was elected state president of B'Nai Brith when the organization held a state and district war emergency meeting Saturday and Sunday in Kansas City at the Muehlebach hotel. The meeting was held in lieu of the usual convention, which, due to wartime difficulties, would have been impractical this year.

Mr. Rosenthal succeeds Harry Soffer of St. Louis.

The B'Nai Brith is the largest organization of Jewish men in the world.

The last Sedalian to be state president was Henry Fredkin, then living in Sedalia now of St. Louis. That was twelve years ago.

Want War Agencies Subject to Courts
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28—(P)—The administration got the promise of another fight in congress to day if it tries to hold intact its vast war powers over industry and private individuals.

The house judiciary committee approved a one-year extension of the second war powers act—the authority for most of the war controls over manufacturing and marketing—but it pinned to the act an administration opposed amendment making the war agencies subject to the courts.

The incessant attacks on Germany's diminishing store of oil already greatly have reduced the efficiency of the luftwaffe and immobilized much of the Nazi transport.

British on the north cleared a pocket north of Venlo and again probed the bulk of her forces and her precious mobile reserves deployed on the Cologne plain. Advances accordingly were slow, for the fight there was a great battle of attrition and Gen. Eisenhower's maximum objective was to destroy the German army.

The massing of German strength on an 18-mile sector beyond Aachen weakened the enemy before the SAAR, rich in coal and steel, and it was here that Lt. Gen. George S. Patton threw his Third Army at this gateway into Germany. The Seventh army in part joined the Third in this offensive north of Saarbrücken.

Bananas Cheaper By Cent a Pound
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28—(P)—Housewives will pay about one cent less a pound for bananas, the OPA said today, as the result of a reduction ordered in the import price ceiling.

The ceiling on bananas from Panama, Costa Rica, Guatemala and Honduras was dropped 50 cents a hundred pounds to $4.50 at the entry port. This is the level at which they first went under price control two years ago.

The changes are effective Dec. 4.

French Forces Reportedly Have Crossed the Rhine North of Strasbourg

LONDON, Nov. 28—(P)—Third Army doughboys thrust within 8½ miles of Saarbrücken, arsenal capital of the Saar, today while their comrades to the north reached the Roer river and punched deeper into the German defenses guarding Cologne.

Simultaneously with the advance on Saarbrücken, other Germany at a new point along a seven-mile front, thrusting within 3½ miles of Saarbrücken. This fresh invasion gave Lt. Gen. Patton's men a 26-mile front inside the Reich, and control of more than 40 square miles of Germany.

By William Frye
LONDON, Nov. 28—(P)—Third Army infantry advanced three to four miles in the center of the western front capturing a village today ten miles from Saarbrücken, a great German arsenal and pivot of the Siegfried Line.

A crossing of the Rhine north of Strasbourg by elements of French forces was reported by a French communiqué broadcast by the French press agency. No immediate confirmation or additional information was forthcoming.

The French elements are part of the American Seventh Army and spearheaded the drive through the Saverne gap to Strasbourg.

Other Americans, of the Ninth Army, reached the flooded Roer river, last natural barrier before

Germans between the Saar coal canal near Saar Union and the Rhine southeast of Haguenau, are retreating, the German military commentator Ludwig Sertorius said tonight.

"German rear guards are safeguarding the withdrawal of the German troops against the right wing of the Third Army and the left wing of the Seventh American Army," the enemy commentator said.

"The Germans are withdrawing to newly-prepared positions which should be a good way south of the frontier."

Cologne and the Rhine. In extremely bitter fighting, they cleared the village of Kirchberg, just across the muddy 30-yard wide stream from Jülich, less than a mile to the north. Kirchberg is 23 miles from the western limits of Cologne.

Between these armies, men of the U. S. First gained by the yard in the fortified village of Hurtgen, still in the contested forest; in Langerwehe, within five miles of Düren on the Roer; and in the western outskirts of Grosshau, three miles from the Roer in the Düren area.

Germans Wiped Out
On the southern flank, Germans south of the Rhine-Rhine canal in Alsace virtually were wiped out with the capture of Dannemarie and several adjacent villages. Scattered resistance continued in the Vosges mountains where the U. S. Seventh Army pressed forward through snow and mud.

Speed Up Approval of Stettinius

General Regret At Hull's Leaving; Japanese Blame 'Trouble in Cabinet'

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28—(P)—Quick Senate confirmation was predicted today for the appointment of Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., as Secretary of State.

Speed was indicated not only by the general acclaim which greeted President Roosevelt's chosen successor to Cordell Hull but also by the urgency of pending international problems, headed by the need to complete the Dumbarton Oaks plan for World Security.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) summoned the Senate Foreign Relations committee to meet tomorrow and Vice President Wallace said he is confident "the senate will support the president's choice by confirming him unanimously."

At the state department the 44-year-old Stettinius, who has been acting secretary since Hull entered the Naval hospital at Bethesda, Md., buckled down to the enormous job confronting him in guiding American foreign policy into new fields of international cooperation.

By The Associated Press
British and Russian quarters expressed regret today at the resignation of Secretary Hull, but were pleased with nomination of Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., as his successor.

The French press devoted only two-inch items to the U. S. state department turnover and did not comment. But this reflected the general feeling that American policy toward France was stabilized with admission of France to the European Advisory Commission, rather than lack of interest.

The Japanese pictured Hull's action as due to trouble in the Roosevelt cabinet. The Germans, described Hull as "the most furious of war mongers," declared his resignation "does not signify any change in American policy."

Argentine Silent
Argentina officialdom maintained strict silence on the change. From Chile came praise for Hull's Good Neighbor policy.

The Russians regarded the resignation of Hull as the loss of a good friend but considered that they had gained a good new one in Stettinius. It was apparent in Moscow with the reelection of Roosevelt that Russian-American relations would continue along virtually the same lines no matter who is secretary of state.

The Yorkshire Post said Hull's resignation would cause "sharp regret in Britain as well as in the United States" but that the appointment of Stettinius was a "reassuring and auspicious choice."

The London Daily Telegraph observed that Stettinius—as industrialist, administrator of lend-lease and undersecretary—had "proved himself to have the weight to take his place in an illustrious succession."

W. L. MacKenzie King Threatens to Resign

By Harry T. Montgomery

OTTAWA, Nov. 28—(P)—The House of Commons was called into secret session today in a Dominion-splitting conspiracy issue following a declaration by Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King that lack of a "reasonable" unity on the question might lead to anarchy in Canada.

The 69-year-old premier told parliament last night that he would resign if he did not get strong support in a vote of confidence to be taken later in the week. He insisted that this support must include members of his own badly split liberal party.

Statistical Story of War
Great Britain's Casualties 733,030 In Five Years

LONDON, Nov. 28—(P)—Britain disclosed today her story of five years of war, years that have cost 733,030 casualties, including 136,116 civilians and "most of the treasure of our grandfathers."

A 60-page white paper gave parliament the statistical story of England's conversion into a factory-fortress, her production, and her losses. It announced one of every three homes in Britain has been destroyed or damaged.

Minister of Information Brendan Bracken told a press conference: "The total war effort of the population of Great Britain is greater than that of any other belligerent. We have not attempted to mule the British empire. Canada is the only empire country from which we have received reverse lend-lease. With all the other dominions we have made financial arrangements much less favorable to ourselves than the United States."

Bracken, saying the Victorians were proud "to be called a nation of shopkeepers," declared "there never have been such shopkeepers as the British. No shopkeeper ever before sold out their entire stocks in order to fight."

Sacrificed Inheritance
"We have sacrificed most of our Victorian inheritance. What was the treasure of our grandfathers has gone, and it has been well and gladly sacrificed."

The white paper reported that more than a third of all British men between 14 and 64 are in the armed forces and that nearly half of the country's women between 14 and 59 are in uniform or in industry.

Civilian casualties through last September 3 included 57,298 killed. Casualties among the armed forces totaled 563,112 with 176,081 killed. In addition 26,629 merchant seamen have been killed and 4,173 interned.

It said that Britain herself has produced 70 per cent of all munitions turned out by our supplies to the commonwealth; 722 major warships, over 100,000 airplanes, over 25,000 tanks and nearly 4,000,000 machine guns and submachine guns.

B-29 BASE SAIPAN, Marianas, Island, Nov. 27—(Delayed)—(Via Navy Radio)—(P)—Maj. Robert K. Morgan, whose B-29 "Dauntless Doty" was the first to bomb Tokyo, had big news to tell the folks back home.

But there are no telephone or telegraph facilities here, and air mail might take a week or more. So the Associated Press is transmitting this letter to his wife, Editor's note: This is how it feels to bomb Tokyo, as told to his wife by the pilot of the first Superfortress to bomb the Japanese capital.)

Major Morgan, who won fame piloting the Flying Fortress "Memphis Belle" in the European theater, wrote it in pencil on a ruled paper pad as he was returning from his second trip to Tokyo this afternoon and handed it to the Associated Press on his arrival at this base. Here it is:

After Leaving Tokyo My Dearest Darling:
I am writing this after having just left the coastline of Japan behind. The target again today was Tokyo. Only 72 hours ago I was over the same coastline. (Dauntless Doty has done a wonderful job. Your namesake is living up to her name.)

Friday I led the whole flight, a thrill that comes once in a lifetime. You remember that was my one ambition, to lead the first B-29 raid on Tokyo.

Today I led just one element, but even so it was nearly as big a thrill as before. John (Maj. John A. Carroll, Fredricktown, Penn.) flew as my deputy leader in the first raid. Captain Cox (Leonard Cox of Tulsa, Okla.) flew as my deputy today. I had,

May, Joe Baird of Tempe, Ariz., with me in the plane today and, as you know, General O'Donnell (Brig. Gen. Emmet O'Donnell of Jamaica, N. Y.) was with me on the first one.

The first raid was for you, darling. Today's was for our two weeks-old daughter, Sandra Lea. All those raids to come will be for you both and the things you stand for.

Comparison of Raids
You know all about my trips over Germany and so the best way to describe today's mission is

Word was received with regret this week by the personnel of the base that Miss Eugenia Human, Director of the Service Club for almost two years, had accepted an assignment in the Caribbean Area and would be leaving Friday, to assume her duties there.

Miss Human is traveling more or less "destination unknown," but has been informed that she will be in the Antilles Department. She has also been told that she will be in charge of a new Service Club which was opened by Mrs. Roosevelt last spring and that most of the men and women

Miss Human is eagerly looking her reluctance to leave the Se-been since its opening on July 3,

Missouri Too Vast for MVA

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 28.—(P)—The Missouri river basin is too vast for efficient management by the proposed Missouri Valley Authority, Harry Trustin, superintendent of public improvements of Omaha, said today in an address before the Mississippi Valley Association convention.

Trustin quoted from a book by David Lilienthal, chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, that regions "should not be so large that they are not of 'workable' size. The full potentialities of the unified approach to resources and the opportunity to be close to the people and their problems may be fatally impaired if the region itself is a vast one."

The Tennessee river is 652 miles long, Trustin said, while the Missouri river is 2,469 miles from the source to the mouth. The basin of the Tennessee Valley comprises 41,000 square miles and the Missouri river basin covers 529,000 square miles.

Soviet Troops Take Mohacs

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(P)—The German radio reported today that Soviet troops had captured Mohacs in their march on the rear of Budapest. Mohacs lies on the west side of the Danube just across the border from Yugoslavia and 98 miles south of the Hungarian capital.

A German military spokesman said that with the incorporation of Mohacs the Russian bridgehead across the Danube was six miles wide. Mohacs is 12 miles northwest of Batina, in Yugoslavia, where the initial crossing was made.

Soviet strategy at this stage of the operation appeared to be a northward advance along the river to take the Budapest defenses from the rear. The capital already is closely besieged on the eastern side of the river.

in reading an article on a survey of the most hospitable city in the United States, and as I remember, Milwaukee, Wis., was first. A survey was also given on courtesy on the railroads, and there, ranking first, was the Missouri Pacific.
Our railroad is a 'happy family';
that's because we are not only courteous to our passengers and courtesy with each other."

In closing he said, "The Missouri Pacific properties have a great future, the men and women of our company likewise have a great future, and I know we'll all do our part to win this war."

Mr. Baldwin was introduced by the Sedalia Shops. Mr. Kilbury in closing the meeting reminded the employees to buy more war bonds.

"The Sedalia shops," he said, "has

Laws May Regulate Labor Unions

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Nov. 28.—
(P)—The Florida supreme court ruled today that labor organizations "so vitally affect the public they may be regulated by law like other organizations, and labor union business agents may be regulated in their conduct like insurance agents, real estate brokers and others."

The unanimous decision upheld a 1943 legislative act requiring union business agents to obtain licenses from the state and requiring unions to make reports showing their name, location and name and address of their officers.

Leaving Tokyo, B-29 Pilot Writes Wife

to compare it with those raids over Germany.

The trip to the target is a long one—twice as long as some complete missions to Germany. As we approached Japan about noon Mount Fuji stuck out above the clouds like a traffic light directing us to the target.

As we turned towards the target the gunners kept their eyes searching the sky for fighters, but all we saw was B-29s leaving the target after having dropped their bombs. Since we were the high flight today, all the other planes were below us as they left the target.

We turned onto our bombing run and opened the bomb doors and began the bomb run, less than a minute later the bombs fell forth from all the planes in my squadron, downward they fell toward Tokyo. The sight of all those bombs dropping on the Tokyo war machine does the heart good. Even more satisfaction is gained than in dropping bombs on Germany. I have waited a long time to drop those bombs. Now my wishes are coming true and this is only the beginning.

Light Opposition

Fighter opposition on both raids has been very light. The flak also has been extremely light and inaccurate. Therefore it goes without much debate that both of these raids were much easier than any I had over Germany. I can add that I am surprised as are John and Leonard who were with me over there.

We have left Tokyo behind with many fires burning in the industrial area and soon we will be back at our base.

I might add that my boys (all crews) have done a swell job and I am proud of them. We have only begun the bombing of Tokyo and there is much ahead. I know our fighting outfit will be on top.
We take a second best to no one.

I must close now and get the plane ready for landing. Give my love to our daughter. Goodnight to you my darling, with all the love in my heart.

Your Bob.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 28.—
(P)—The telephone rang and Mrs.
Dorothy Morgan heard: "This is the Associated Press and we have a letter for you, from your husband on Saipan, by cable."

"Oh, no!" she cried, astonished.
It was 8:30 a. m. and a bit early to spring such a surprise.

She listened as Major Robert K.
Morgan's letter was read, telling of his bombing flight over Tokyo.
"Wonderful!" she said. Mrs.
Morgan said she felt certain her husband had taken part in the B-29 raids just from reading the newspaper stories. Also, she said, she had pictured him as a member of one of the recent reconnaissance flights over Tokyo.

She had a letter from Major Morgan four days ago but has not seen him since he was home in early October.

"Such great news," she said.
"Thanks, thanks so much."

Sandra Lea, their two-weeks-old daughter was fine and growing every day, Mrs. Morgan said.

Traffic Cases

Two traffic cases were before

on Ohio avenue, and "John Doe" who parked his car in a bus zone.

Proceedings Continued

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 28.—(P)— Contempt of court proceedings against Charles Prettymann, Neosho, Mo., for alleged violation of an injunction directing him to abide by Office of Price Administration rent regulations, were continued to February 12 by Federal Judge John C. Collett yesterday.

Judge Collett held that separate contracts made by Prettymann with tenants for charges over and above the OPA rent ceiling were a part of the rental agreement and in violation of federal regulations.
He withheld judgment, however,
on the contempt charges.

Prettymann contended that he had installed added heating equipment and collected $8 per month with the understanding the installments would cease when the equipment cost was paid out. He did not know that the contracts needed OPA approval, he testified.

Glen V. Graf, OPA attorney, contended Prettymann had been a landlord since federal rent regulations were first put into effect, and should have known the agency's rules. He said Prettymann owns "about 200 property units."

Getting Ready for Postwar Jobs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(P)— Getting ready for the effort to supply postwar jobs, President Roosevelt proposed to congress today a $75,000,000 appropriation to encourage planning of non-federal public works projects.

The money would go to the federal works agency for advances and loans to states, counties and municipalities under terms of the George Reconversion act.

A White House statement said
the planning would cover some $1,518,000,000 worth of construction.

DariAnn says

You don't have to be an expert cook to make delicious yeast rolls if you use DARI-CRAFT Evaporated Milk. My recipe is so simple and such fun to do. For a one o'clock luncheon, make them at eight, and for a six o'clock dinner, set them at one. Here's exactly how to make them.

Quick Rolls

- 3/4 cup DARI-CRAFT
- 3/4 cup water
- 1 cake yeast
- 1 tablespoon shortening
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 4 cups flour (more or less)

Heat DARI-CRAFT and water until lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in 1/2 cup of this warm milk. Heat balance of DARI-CRAFT and water to scalding point, but do not boil. Add shortening, sugar and salt. Mix well, then add the dissolved yeast mixture. Add 2 cups of the flour. Cool about 30 minutes. Work in enough of the remaining 2 cups of flour or more until you have a soft ball of dough that can be handled easily, but not dry. Toss on floured board and knead well. Grease dough on all sides, place back in bowl and cover with clean towel and let rise to double its bulk, or about 3 hours. Roll 1/3 inch thick, cut with biscuit cutter, dip in melted butter, and place in pans. Cover with the cloth, set in warm place and let rise until ready to bake. Bake in hot oven (400°) for 15 minutes.

Of course, it's the DARI-CRAFT that makes them so light and fluffy and so inexpensive (no eggs and so little shortening). Any amateur can do them. Get some DARI-CRAFT Evaporated Milk today and try them. Your family and friends will be astonished at the results.

Berlin Claims Increase In V-2s

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(P)—Berlin declared Monday the "number of V-2s aimed at London and other targets near the front has increased almost every day." A broadcast said problems of production and speeding up of launchings have been solved. The German communiqué said areas of London, Antwerp and Liege were targets of long range fire. Berlin said the Germans expected to employ rocket bombs on the east and west fronts as long range artillery. "The advantage of the V-2," the broadcast said, "is that it can not be attacked from the ground nor from the air. The visible part of the trial is only in the beginning and very short."

Twenty Killed In Munitions Blast

BURTON-ON-TRENT, England, Nov. 28.—(P)—A terrific explosion in an underground munitions storage depot Monday killed at least 20 persons, injured 11, trapped 30 and blitzed a countryside. Five bodies had been recovered tonight by rescue workers hampered by craters from bombs tossed up through the earth's surface which devastated a village and surrounding farmlands. Five counties were shaken and windows broken 32 miles away. Stunned villagers told of seeing buildings, boulders, trees, telegraph poles and livestock flung high in the air. As debris rained over an area miles wide, bombs from the depot also fell and new explosions thundered.

Would Extend War Powers

Judiciary Body Of The House Gives Approval

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(P)—The house judiciary committee approved a one-year extension of the administration's sweeping War Powers Act Monday but pinned to it a provision for a court review of war agency rulings.

The War Powers Act is the congressional basis for the War Production Board, War Food Administration, Office of Defense Transportation, parts of the Office of Price Administration and many other emergency agencies set up to gear the nation's industry to wartime production.

Today's bill, which will be reported to the house probably tomorrow, extends or one year the life of the act which otherwise would expire with the close of this year.

Provide Court Review

With its approval, however, the committee adopted an amendment providing for a court review of WPB and OPA suspension orders by which the use of priority materials can be withdrawn from individual manufacturers or dealers.

The present act provides no appeal from agency orders. Under the amendment individuals can go into court and get a stop order against a WPB suspension order anytime within 10 days after the order is issued.

The amendment, sponsored by Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala.), gives federal district courts jurisdiction to pass on suspension orders, priority allocations or an agency's refusal to pass on an application to stay a suspension.

Under the present arrangement WPB, ODT or other war agencies can suspend an allocation of critical materials after once granting it and the person affected cannot go into court. The withdrawal of a "B" gasoline ration, for example, amounts to a suspension order.

Through the Hobbs amendment, a manufacturer who loses a supply of critical materials through a WPB suspension order could go into federal district court in his home district and ask for an injunction against the suspension. No suspension order could take effect within five days of its issuance.

The administration opposed the amendment from the outset, contending its adoption might glut the courts with war-priority litigation and slow up the allocation of critical materials needed for war manufacturing.

Sponsors of the amendment said, however, they do not believe much actual litigation will grow out of the change if it is adopted. Appeals from WPB or war agency orders now go up through the agency itself and are passed upon finally by the Office of James F. Byrnes, Director of War Mobilization and Reconversion.

"Colleges Prepare for the Future" was the subject of an address given Monday afternoon at Sorsosis by William F. Knox, director division of field service at the Central Missouri State Teachers College, Warrensburg.

Mr. Knox gave a brief history of the colleges up to the present day, and then gave valuable information on what the future will hold for the young men now in service who will be returning home after the peace is won. A college education will become as much a part of America tomorrow as high school education is today.

Higher education began early in America, Mr. Knox pointed out. Only fifteen years after the Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock in 1636, they founded a college. It was Harvard. Here in the new land they had built their homes, their churches, their schools. But now there was a new need. A need of higher education. A need to educate ministers to carry on the work of God in the new country after the ministers in their midst had returned to dust.

There were two types of early American colleges, the English type, primarily instructive and the German type which was more for research.

Most of the colleges before the Civil War were north of the Mason and Dixon line. The two main types were seminaries and institutes. The south introduced the new form of state universities with the first one in North Carolina. The first state in which the federal government made provisions for land was in Ohio for the Ohio State University. The colleges began to teach all forms of professions. The first after the ministry was medicine. Teachers' college courses started in 1823 and women came into the college picture in 1821. The first co-educational college began at Overland in 1833.

The twentieth century's contribution to education, Mr. Knox said, was the junior college which was a whittling down of four years to two years. There are several of these in Missouri, but the junior college is growing in popularity in a few other states, very rapidly. In many places there is the upward extension of the high schools to the thirteenth and fourteenth grades which are public junior colleges. Many of these junior colleges offer wonderful evening programs.

The colleges following the war will take the same place for children that the high school does now, where three out of every four children in America will be found.

When the war is over there will be about six million people who will need jobs. Something must be done, Mr. Knox said. They will cut into the upper end by compulsory retirement at a certain age and off the other end for advanced education.

The young men returning home after the war will be given opportunity to continue their education where they left off. They will be given one year and if they qualify may continue as many years as they have served. Upon the college faculties will fall the tremendous task of what they are fitted for—where they can work best. It will be the job of trying to fit the program to the student instead of student to the program. There will be a shift from private institutions to state institutions and there will be more emphasis on specialized work.

The greatest need will be for professional men, especially doctors and dentists, Mr. Knox said. Mr. Knox was introduced by Mrs. Abe Bertman, chairman of the Civics Department. Mrs. Bertman is also in charge of next week's program and announced that Rev. Clyde S. Sherman, pastor of the First Christian church, will speak on "The War as a Spur to Progress."

Mrs. Austin Hurley, president, presided over the meeting.

Osage Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was entertained in the home of Mrs. C. L. Patterson, Saturday afternoon. Assisting hostesses were her daughter, Miss Marian Smith, Miss Ruth Fults, Miss Nina Harris and Mrs. W. B. R. Allen.

The usual opening ritual was conducted by Mrs. W. L. Layne, regent, after which reports of standing committees were given. Mrs. George Bichel reported on the condition and needs of Osage Chapter room at Arrow Rock tavern. Miss Lela Shortridge told of work in Junior American citizenship; prizes were awarded Bothwell, Washington, and Horace Mann schools and to C. C. Hubbard eighth grade.

Mrs. P. H. Handley expressed appreciation for voluntary contributions made to the box to be sent to the School of the Ozarks.

Short reports were given by Miss Shortridge, Mrs. Frank Leach and Mrs. Linden Lee Jones, who attended the Southwest District conference of D. A. R. in Springfield October 31. The state convention is to be held in Sedalia in the early spring, and Mrs. Elza Berry, general chairman, read the names of committee members to serve at that time, asking them to meet with some of the state officers December 4 to perfect convention plans.

Mrs. A. M. Hoffman introduced her guest, Mrs. Earl Sanger of Chicago, and W. E. Scotten was welcomed as a new club member.

Mrs. C. L. Hanley gave an account of "The Life of Sarah Josepha Hale," after which Miss Laura McCluney read the paper

Blows On Forty-eight Jap Ships

That Number Were Sunk Or Damaged In Manila Raid

By Lief Erickson
U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, Nov. 28.—(P)—At least 48 Japanese vessels were sunk or damaged by carrier planes of the U. S. third fleet in the Friday strike on the Manila bay area. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, in a communique Monday revising previous reports of the attack, added two ships sunk and 23 damaged to the original score. The total number of Japanese ships sunk or damaged during November in steady pounding of the enemy's supply center for the Philippines thus is increased to 151. Hellcat fighters and anti-aircraft fire from the American surface ships downed 58 Japanese planes. Twenty-nine more were destroyed on the ground and an additional 32 probably were damaged on the ground. Avengers and Helldivers ranged over most of Luzon and adjacent islands, carrying out one of the heaviest attrition blows in weeks on the Nipponese supply line to American-invaded Leyte Island in the central Philippines. The Destruction The communique's revised summary: Sunk—One heavy cruiser at Santa Cruz, on the west coast of Luzon. One destroyer at Santa Cruz. Two old destroyers at Marinduque Island, about 100 miles southeast of Manila. One destroyer escort 10 miles west of Santa Cruz. Three medium landing ships 10 miles west of Santa Cruz. One cargo ship north of San Fernando, a port 150 miles north of Manila. One small freighter off Subic Bay, 50 miles north of Manila. Four oilers near Lubang Island, about 75 miles southeast of Manila. Four small coastal cargo ships

Merry-go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—More inside facts in the tangled skein of Chinese politics leading to the recent shakeup of Chiang Kai-shek's cabinet and the ousting of General Stilwell from his Far East command can now be revealed. A show-down with China as to whether she was really going to fight Japan has been in the cards for a long time. Last July, this column reported that many Chinese war lords around Chiang would rather fight Britain and the USA than Japan. Since then, a comprehensive report has reached the White House giving details regarding the whole Chinese picture and certain suspicious relationships between the Japanese and some of those around the generalissimo. For example, Wu Te-chen, Secretary General of the Kuomintang (a position similar to that of Bob Hannegan, chairman of the Democratic national committee) still owns a large home on Avenue Hague in Shanghai, still collects rent for it through his own agent in the Jap-occupied areas, while his wife lives openly under the Japanese in Shanghai. Also, the wife of Chu Chia-hua, Kuomintang Minister of Organization, has travelled freely between Jap-occupied and unoccupied China, apparently with the consent and cooperation of the Japs. Finally, her goings and comings attracted so much attention that she was asked not to return to Chungking any more. Meanwhile, Madame Sun Yat-sen, widow of China's great liberator and first president, has been rebelling privately at some policies of Chiang Kai-shek, her brother-in-law. As a result, Madame Sun is kept out of contact with other Chinese in Chungking. Where Madame Sun especially disagrees with the generalissimo is in his failure to cooperate with the so-called "Communist" or "Agrarian" armies in the north. The White House report on China tells in detail about the steady resistance these northern peasant armies are putting up against the Japs compared with the wavering and sometimes non-existent fighting of Chiang's own war lords. All of this came to a head when General Patrick J. Hurley (Hoover's ex-Secretary of War) and Donald Nelson asked Chiang to cooperate with the Communist armies under an over-all U. S. commander instead of fighting them. It was at this time that General Stilwell was ousted. Chiang, who had never liked Stilwell, made it clear that he would never accept an American over-all commander if Stilwell were in the picture. Since then, Chiang has cleaned up his cabinet and is more cooperative.

Amazing results shown in improving the Looks... boosting VITALITY!

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach
2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!

Improper diet, overwork, undue worries, colds, the flu or other illness often impairs the stomach's digestive functions and reduces the red-blood strength. A person who is operating on only a 70 to 75% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 50 to 60% normal is severely handicapped. At such times Nature needs extra help to restore its balance and function properly. Undigested food places a tax on the system. Insufficient blood strength is a detriment to good health. If you are subject to poor digestion or suspect deficient red-blood as the cause of your trouble, yet have no organic complication or focal infection, SSS Tonic may be just what you need! SSS Tonic is especially designed (1) to promote the flow of VITAL DIGESTIVE JUICES in the stomach and (2) to build-up BLOOD STRENGTH when deficient. These two important results enable you to enjoy the food you do eat, to make use of it as Nature intended. Thus you may get new vitality... pep... become animated... more attractive!

Build Sturdy Health and Help America Win
Thousands and thousands of users have testified to the benefits SSS Tonic has brought to them and scientific research shows that it gets results—that's why so many say "SSS Tonic builds sturdy health—makes you feel like yourself again." At drug stores in 10 and 20 oz. sizes 25c and 50c.

Report on Chinese Communists
U. S. concern regarding the long smouldering Chinese situation came to a head as a result of two developments: 1. It became apparent that the Japs could not be licked merely by island-to-island operations in the Pacific. This type of warfare might destroy even the Japanese main islands, but because the Japs have been moving their war industries to China, a major campaign on the Chinese mainland is going to be necessary. 2. The United States was able to send an official mission to visit the Chinese Communists or Agrarians for the first time in five years. This was arranged as a result of Vice President Wallace's trip. The mission's subsequent report, recently reaching the president's desk, convinced him that somehow or other the two divergent factions inside China must be coordinated. Here are some of the highlights of the American mission's report: 1. The best-equipped armies of Chiang Kai-shek's Kuomintang are used, not to fight the Japs, but to fight the guerrilla Communists. Some of their equipment was sent to China on lend-lease. This is one reason why we haven't sent more. 2. The Eighth Route army of

For Two Terms Limit On Presidency
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(P)—A constitutional amendment limiting the president's tenure of office to two terms was proposed Monday in congress. Rep. Gillie (R-Ind.) offered the amendment in the house. Sen. Willis (R-Ind.) expects to present it to the Senate tomorrow.

The Communist guerrillas is more efficient, better disciplined, has better military strategists in command than Chiang Kai-shek's forces. 3. The Communists have excellent military intelligence, know more than any other Allied army about what is going on inside Japan. 4. The economic situation of the guerrillas is better than that of the Chungking forces. Both are pretty much cut off from the outside world, though Chungking has been receiving a trickle of supplies from the USA by plane. How Guerrillas Operate The American mission's report to the White House is a very human document. It tells a vivid story of the lengths to which free people will go to fight an aggressor. With no ammunition to speak of—perhaps averaging 20 rounds to a man—Chinese guerrillas will attack a much stronger Jap force in order to take away their supplies. One of their most effective weapons is home-made dynamite, manufactured from saltpetre and sometimes mixed with odds and ends of metal to make hand grenades. Dynamite has been too precious to use in blowing up railroads, so the guerrillas rip up railroad ties and rails by hand. To thwart them, the Japs now rivet their rails together. So many telegraph poles have been saved off by the Communists that the Japs now have to go to the trouble of making concrete poles. The American mission also reported that the Communist armies had never heard of a sulfa pill, never known what a blood bandage was. When their men are wounded, they usually die. The Chinese Agrarian leaders made no demands on the American mission, impressed U. S. officials with their independence and pride. When asked what the United States could send them, their requests were simple. First on the list were radio sending and receiving sets. They also wanted some modern high-powered dynamite, some trench mortars and medical supplies. One thing emphasized in the White House report was that the energetic operations of the guerrillas make it impossible for the Japs to control the cities they capture. For as soon as the Japs capture a city, the guerrillas move in behind and make occupation a nightmare. The situation in China is similar to that which the United States found between Tito and General Mikailovitch in Yugoslavia. Only, instead of siding with one faction or the other, President Roosevelt is doing his best to get the two Chinese groups to work together.
